

Want to work as a...

Chef

- Junior Chef
- Commis Chef
- Pastry Chef
- Chef de Partie
- Sous Chef
- Head Chef

City & Guilds

A City & Guilds Group Business

Catering Industry

Chefs are responsible for planning, preparing, developing and creating sensational dishes for the restaurant menu, and for customers to delight in.

Relevant courses: A-levels, technical qualifications and apprenticeships in the following subjects; food technology, food safety in catering, food product management, food preparation and cooking, catering and professional chefs, general patisserie.

Salary:

- Entry level
£13,000 to £19,000
- Experienced (ie: 3 - 5 plus years) £18,000-£25,000
- Senior/Manager
£30,000-£50,000

To find out more about studying for a career in hospitality and catering visit:
www.cityandguilds.com/apprenticeships/emerging-standards

www.cityandguilds.com/techbac/subject-areas

Want to work in...

Events

- Promotions assistant
- Events coordinator
- Conference planner
- Events manager
- Senior events manager

Events Industry

People who work in events are in charge of planning, promoting and coordinating events on behalf of a client, or for your own organisation. You are in control of ensuring the smooth running of the event from start to finish.

Relevant courses: A-levels, technical qualifications and apprenticeships in the following subjects; hospitality team member and hospitality supervisor, customer services, leisure, travel & tourism, event management.

To find out more about studying for a career in hospitality and catering visit:
www.cityandguilds.com/apprenticeships/emerging-standards

www.cityandguilds.com/techbac/subject-areas

Salary:

- Entry level
£15,000 to £21,000
- Experienced (ie: 3 - 5 plus years) £25,000-£40,000
- Senior/Manager
£50,000-£80,000

